

Preparing for an EMR Staffing Solution?

AMN Healthcare is Your Workforce Solutions Partner

Healthcare facilities across the nation are preparing to make the transition from paper-based documentation to an electronic health records/electronic medical records system (EMR), or are transitioning from one system to another. Making the transition to an EMR system can bring improved efficiency and patient safety, plus financial incentives from the federal government for achieving "meaningful use." We'll work with you to assess your specific needs, devise a plan and provide the supplemental staff you'll need throughout the EMR transition process.
